3.	At 12:10 p.m. on 26 December, a swept-back jet fighter taxied under its own power to the northernmost shrapnel- proof revetment on the western edge of the field. Its engine was stopped, and six soldiers pushed the plane into the revetment. A third shrapnelproof revetment was completed south of the two other revetments on the western edge of the field. There was a space of about 30 meters between the two fevetments. The taxiway and the entrance to the shrapnelproof revetment were about 15 meters apart.	*	25X1

1.2.	On 21 December, eight trucks loaded with sand moved along the ramp at the field as far as the shrapnel proof aircraft revetments in the northern section of the field. Four men wearing red-bordered black equilets and equipped with shovels were observed on each car. Work was in progress on the revetments also on this day which was Stalin's birthday. Three searchlights mounted on masts, about 3 meters high, on the northern edge of the landing field were removed. Trucks	25X1 were observed entering and leaving the field.
1.	Comment. Grossenhain airfield is occupied by the headquarters of a fighter division and two fighter regiments.
2.	Comment. Empty aircraft crates which had been stored at the field for a long time were probably retransferred. The same observation was previously made at other airfields.
